University of Alabama & Ohio State National Championship Game

Former University of Alabama and NFL Player
Sherman Williams Reflects on the Winning Connection

Mobile, Ala. – The University of Alabama Crimson Tide will take on the Ohio State Buckeyes at the 2021 College Football Playoff National Title game in Miami, Florida. The championship game will be the fifth-ever meeting between these programs since the first game in 1978.

Former University of Alabama standout running back, is the author of the inspirational autobiography “The Crimson Cowboy”, where he chronicles this game from preparation all the way to being awarded the Citrus Bowl’s Most Valuable player in 1995.

1995 Citrus Bowl: No. 6 Alabama 24, No. 13 Ohio State 17

Alabama found itself in the Citrus Bowl to cap the 1994 season after the Tide was beaten in the SEC Championship Game by No. 6 Florida, 24-23. The Buckeyes led, 17-14, with under nine minutes to play, the Tide evened the score on a field goal with 4:29 left. Alabama took the lead on a 50-yard touchdown pass from Jay Barker to Sherman Williams with 42 seconds remaining, which is now famously known among Crimson Tide fans as “The Winning Connection.”

Williams is the Founder and President of the Palmer Williams Group (PWG), a 501(c) (3) non-profit organization. PWG was created to provide youth development programs to assist and guide disadvantaged youth to overcome interpersonal obstacles, embrace family values and encourage education while avoiding life’s pitfalls. Proceeds from the sale of the book benefits the Palmer Williams Group.
